

SATURDAY, JUNE 4. 1743.

Yesterday arrived a Mail from Holland.

Constantinople, April 7.

THE War with Persia seems to be now out of doubt, and, by the Preparations we are making, it looks as if we thought it of the last Importance. The Fleet, in the Black Sea, is to be commanded by the Capudan Basha, or Lord High Admiral. The Army is to act under the Orders of the Prime Minister, notwithstanding the earnest Desire the Grand Signior express'd to keep him here. The late Grand Vizir also to command an Army of Observation, and, some think, that the Sultan himself will go into the Field. In the mean time, we have certain Intelligence that the three Armies of the Shah Nadir consist each of 100,000 Men, and that he acts in Conjunction with the deposed King of Tartary, who has a great Interest in the Crime, and with the Basha of Babylon, who, of a Subject, has mind to turn Prince; and the Discovery of these Ingueries gives the Court more real Disquiet than the War itself.

Petersbourg, May 21. On the 15th her Imperial Majesty was at Cronstadt, in order to see the Fleet, and to see the Troops embark'd therein her Benediction. She, at the same time, presented the Veldt Marshal Count Key with a Diamond Ring worth 10,000 Rubles; and has given him full Power to act, during the Campaign, as he shall think proper. He has Orders to send his Dispatches to the Veldt Marshal Dolgorucki, who will put them immediately into the Hands of the Empress. The Troops on board the Fleet, which consists of 100 Gallies, and 86 half Gallies, are computed at 88,000 Men. On the 19th eight Ships of the Line sailed under the Command of Admiral Count Gallowin from Cronstadt to Revel, where this Squadron will join the rest of the Fleet, and then proceed in Search of the Swedes, who are already sail'd from Carelscoon.

Stockholm, May 31. The Order of Nobles are extremely offended at the conducting of Count Lewenaupt and General Bodenbrock to the publick Prisons, which consists in no degree with their Privileges; and upon this they expostulated warmly with the Secret Committee. The Committee threw the Blame upon the Major, who had the Care of the Prisoners, and who, they insisted, mistook their Orders. On the other Hand, the Major fix'd upon one of the Members, who, he insisted upon it, brought him those Orders, and thereon the Things rest. The Order of Peasants, and that of Burgesies, oppos'd their continuing any longer the Negotiations at Abo, since it appeared, that the Czarina intended to restore only a Part of the Duchy of Finland, and insisted on their Choice of the Duke of Holstein Uria, as a Condition sine qua non. However, the Nobility and Clergy, with much ado, procur'd full Powers for M. de Nolken to sign the Preliminaries, in case all Finland was restored; but these Powers are limited to the 15th of next Month, and if by that Time the Dispatches from Petersbourg are not satisfactory, they are to leave Abo, and return hither.

Lisbon, May 7. On the 2d, about Four in the Morning, the King, accompanied by the Prince of Brazil, and the Infants Don Pedro and Don Anthony, set out for Villa Nova, from whence his Majesty is to go to the Hot Baths, where he is to stay longer than he did when there last, in hopes that they will in time produce a good Effect.

Frankfort, June 5. There are some People here who pretend to have certain Advice, that Braunau is in the Hands of the Austrians; and, which is more extraordinary, that the Emperor is actually on the Point of breaking with France, and declaring for the Allies. We do not pretend to give this as certain, but we know, that on the 3d the Army of the Earl of Stair pass'd the Main, over the two Bridges they had thrown cross that River. The Austrians follow'd soon after, and the Hannoverians have enter'd their Camp; tho', it is believ'd, the last-mentioned Troops will also pass the River speedily. The Advices we had of the King of Great Britain's setting out for this City were premature, and occasioned by the Arrival of the Master of his Household, and Part of his Baggage in our Neighbourhood. We continue, however, to make great Preparations for his Reception; and, it is thought that his Arrival here will determine the so-long contested Point, whether this Summer will give Birth to a General Peace or a General War.

Batisbon, June 3. The Inhabitants of Bavaria arrive here in such Crowds, that we find it difficult to provide them with Lodgings, and Places to bestow their Goods in. Count Maurice of Saxony, and some other French Officers, arriv'd here on the 1st, and within an Hour after it was known, that the French, notwithstanding the vast Expence they have been at in fortifying Stadt-amhoff, were determin'd to abandon it. On the 2d in the Morning Prince Lobkowitz advanc'd with his Forces, and about Three o'Clock the French began to pass the Danube with great Precipitation. They sent over their Artillery first, or it had not pass'd at all; for before the last Squadron of Dragoons had quitted the Bridge, they heard the Trumpets of the Hussars in Stadt-amhoff. The Croats and Pandours enter'd that Place about Five in the Morning, Prince Lobkowitz came thither about Seven, and immediately sent an Officer to compliment our Regency, who return'd this Civility by a Deputation. About Twelve he came hither, and dined with Baron Palm. In the Afternoon he returned to Stadt-amhoff. His Army consists of above 13,000 Men; but he expects to be join'd To-morrow by Baron Trenck with the rest of the irregular Forces, which amount to above 2500 Men. The French who are at Weix, which is a very strong Post, made a Sally from thence last Night, but were beat back by the Hussars and Croats with very considerable Loss. We have this Moment Advice, that the Army of Prince Charles of Lorraine is in Motion, in order to attack Marshal Broglie.

Manheim, June 3. All the French Horse that arriv'd here from Landau, are march'd on to Worms. A Detachment of 700 Cavalry are also march'd towards Heilbronn. We conceive, that they are part of the Corps which is to march into Bavaria, under the Command of Count Segur; but these will be quickly replaced by fresh Troops from France. All our Advices agree, that there Preference is very necessary there, where the Austrians have been for some time victorious; yet the very same Letters add, that the Imperialists had surpriz'd a considerable Body of Croats and Pandours at Rosenheim, and had made a great Number of Prisoners. This Morning we had an Express from Augsburg, by which we learn, that the Prince of Saxe Hildburghausen, who commands the Imperial Troops in Braunau, had attempted to make his Retreat from thence, but was forc'd to return into the Place with very considerable Loss.

Utrecht, June 9. The Duke of Richmond, Master of the Horse to his Britannick Majesty, arriv'd here on the 6th, and reviewed the King's Equipage, which consists of 13 Berlins, 35 Waggon, and 54 Carriages, with 649 Horses. On the 7th the First Division set out for the Army, as did the Second on the 8th; and the Duke of Richmond, and the rest of the Officers of the Household, are expected to take the same Route To-morrow.

Hague, June 12. The Prince of Waldeck having desired Leave of their High Mightinesses to make the Campaign this Year as General of Foot in one of the Queen of Hungary's Armies, their High Mightinesses very readily granted it, on Condition that he promised to return on the first Notice. On the 8th in the Afternoon Mr. Trevor receiv'd an Express from Hanover, and the same Afternoon a special Packet-Boat was hired to carry him to London; whence it is conceived, that the Dispatches he is charged with are of very great Importance. As yet we have no certain Advice that Marshal Broglie has taken a Resolution to join the Imperialists, tho' such a Report has prevail'd here for some time.

L O N D O N.

The King of Sardinia has put an End to all the Reports that have been spread of his intending to clap up a Peace with Spain, by his demanding a Body of Austrian Troops to garison the strong Places in Piedmont, that he may employ the Forces, which are in them at present, to strengthen his Army that is on the Point of marching into Savoy.

The only true Specifick Tincture
For the TOOTH-ACH, and all Disorders and Defects of the TEETH and GUMS whatever, which his grace hath insinuated to the Nobility and Gentry for above Twenty Years past, by its vastly exceeding all other Things, formerly invented or lately contrived for these Purposes.

SINCE one Drop of it gives instant relief and instant Ease in the most tormenting Pain, without doing any harm, and not only takes it away in a Moment, but absolutely cures the TOOTH-ACH, so as certainly to prevent its Return.

At only once using it makes the foulest Teeth most beautifully white, affords satisfaction to those that are loose, and insensibly preserves the Teeth from growing rotten, and those a little decay'd, from becoming worse: It perfectly cures the Swelling of the Gums, causing them to grow up to the Teeth again to the admiration, and also occasions a Sweet Breath.

It is neither disagreeable to the Smell or Taste, but effectually preserves the Teeth and Gums from all Manner of Decay, Corruption, and Putrefaction, keeps them sound, good, and in most beautiful Order, and may be depended upon to improve the Character here given of it, literally, and in every respect, as Persons innumerable have experienced.

But these inimitable Qualities, and solely inherent Virtues, by which it has justly gain'd such an universal and unequalled great character, have occasion'd, as usual in such cases, various frequent Endeavours to imitate it, some under the same Name, and in the very Words of this Advertisement, and others under other Names; be careful, therefore, to have the right, which may be infallibly relied upon, and which is to be had only, by the Author's Appointment, of the Gentlewoman, at the Two Blue-Posts, in Haydon-Yard, in the Minories, London, at 3 s. 6 d. a Bottle, with Directions.
